

Daybreak Cohousing Pet Agreements

As members of Daybreak Cohousing, we value “sharing, respecting and tending to each other’s lives and “making conscious choices that honor our relationship to the earth”. Because of this, we make this agreement regarding the animals that share our community with us.

Some community members have chosen to include animals in their lives and therefore have willingly assumed the responsibility for the care, maintenance and behavior of their pets. Others have chosen differently and out of respect and with sensitivity for those who fear animals, have pet allergies or who relate to another’s pet, personal choice will be respected.

To encourage optimal community participation, the Common House and Guest Rooms will be Pet Free Zones and dogs will be on leash on the community grounds.

Pet owners will be respectful of the community’s need for cleanliness and personal safety in the common areas and garden spaces. Non-pet owners will trust pet owners to keep community spaces safe and pet free.

As with all other community agreements, if disagreements arise in implementation of the above, we will follow our Community Process guidelines.